

Acknowledgments

Time flies, and my studies at Dhonburi Rajabhat University are coming to an end. Here, I would like to express my special thanks to my advisors, Asst. Prof. Dr. Noppawan Wisedsind and Asst. Prof. Dr. Jirapong Ruanggoon. The successful completion of the research paper cannot be achieved without the tutor's rigorous and practical guidance.

In the process of writing and studying this paper, I have learned a lot of useful knowledge and experience from my advisors. Especially in the writing process of this graduation research, from the topic selection, conceptual framework, to the completion of the first draft, repeated revision and final draft, the instructor gave timely and professional suggestions, and gave detailed revision guidance. Here, I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to my advisors.

At the same time, I would also like to thank Dhonburi Rajabhat University for training me, thank all the teachers I have met for their hard work and tireless teachings, and thank my classmates for their help in my study and life.

Finally, I would like to thank my family for their selfless efforts and support in my study and thesis writing process.

Liu Keqi