Acknowledgments

As time swiftly passes, my educational journey at Dhonburi Rajabhat University draws to a close. In this poignant moment, I want to convey my heartfelt gratitude to my esteemed advisors, Asst. Prof. Dr. Jirapong Ruanggoon and Asst. Prof. Dr. Patcharapa Euamornvanich. The triumphant culmination of my research paper would not have been possible without the steadfast and insightful guidance of these mentors.

Throughout the arduous yet enriching process of crafting and studying this paper, I have gleaned invaluable knowledge and experience under the tutelage of my mentor. Particularly during the writing stages of this graduation research, encompassing everything from topic selection and conceptual framework to the meticulous completion of successive drafts, my advisor provided timely and professional suggestions alongside detailed revision guidance. In this moment of reflection, my sincere appreciation extends to my advisor for their unwavering support.

Simultaneously, I extend my gratitude to Dhonburi Rajabhat University for nurturing and shaping my academic journey. I express thanks to all the dedicated teachers I have encountered, whose hard work and tireless teachings have left an indelible mark on my educational path. To my classmates, I offer appreciation for their supportive role in both my academic pursuits and personal life.

Lastly, my deepest gratitude goes to my family for their selfless efforts and unwavering support throughout my academic endeavors and the thesis writing process.
