

Acknowledgments

Time flies and my study at Dhonburi Rajabhat University is coming to an end. Here, I would like to express my special thanks to my advisor, Asst. Prof. Dr. Noppawan Wisetsin and Asst. Prof. Dr. Jirapong Ruanggoon. The successful completion of this paper cannot be achieved without his rigorous, realistic and practical guidance on academic requirements.

What I have learned from my advisor in the process of writing and learning this paper will benefit me for life and encourage me to keep moving forward. In particular, during the writing of this graduation research, from the topic selection, conceptual framework, to the first draft and repeated revision, the advisor gave timely and professional suggestions, and gave careful revision guidance. I hereby express my sincere thanks to my advisor. Professor rigorous and meticulous work style, earnest, diligent, and tolerance of attitude towards life will always inspire me work in the future continue to work hard, go forward in life.

At the same time, I also want to thank Dhonburi Rajabhat University for training me, thank all the teachers I met for their hard work and tireless teachings, and thank my classmates for their help in my study and life.

Finally, I would like to thank my family for their selfless efforts and support during my study and thesis writing.

Wang Ying